Laura McClellan concentrates her practice on real estate and real estate finance. She has extensive experience representing buyers and sellers in acquisition, sale, and development of real estate, including retail, office, senior assisted living and multi-family projects throughout the country. She also has significant experience representing landlords and tenants in commercial leasing transactions. In addition, Laura also has extensive experience representing lenders and borrowers in connection with real estate-secured construction and permanent financing; including office, hotel, retail, multi-family, and senior independent and assisted living projects, complex multi-property, and multi-state transactions.

Representative Transactions Include

- Representation of mezzanine lender in multiple financing and acquisition transactions
- Representation of developer in leasing of commercial/industrial space for multiple properties in the DFW metroplex area
- Representation of banks and life insurance company in construction and permanent loans from mid seven figures to projects and portfolios well in excess of $100 million each, including office, retail, and senior housing properties
- Representation of retail company in acquisition and sale of properties throughout Texas, including drafting and negotiation of purchase and ground lease documents, construction management agreements with the shopping center developers, and operation and reciprocal covenant agreements among the client, developer, and other major retail users at the centers

- Representation of tenant-client in renegotiating lease for headquarters, covering over 50,000 square feet
- Representation of senior housing provider in acquisition of multi-state, multi-property portfolio of senior residential facilities
- Representation of a NYC-based REIT in the resolution of issues related to their loan collateral located in Texas, including coordinating litigation and negotiating and documenting an assumption and complete restructuring of a roughly $40 million loan facility as part of a settlement of litigation regarding a property in Houston
- Representation of a Maryland-based fund with its sale of a senior housing facility in Washington state and its expedited acquisition of an industrial property in Massachusetts with multiple environmental and use restriction issues but a favorable price and a high upside potential due to the tenant opportunities in the space
- Representation of an Oregon-based company in its acquisition of properties in Texas and construction of senior housing facilities
- Representation of an out-of-state client in its acquisition of a small retail property in the Austin area
- Representation of the buyer in the purchase of a large commercial horse property, well known for its arena and commercial breeding and training operations, in Oklahoma
- Representation of the construction lender for a south Texas resort project, including working with the borrower and the hotel brand team to document the agreements regarding operation of the hotel
- Representation of a Hawaii-based private trust in its real estate investments on the mainland, including acquisition of small retail centers and handling landlord/tenant issues
- Representation of a NYC-based REIT in its $5,000,000 sale of a small Texas hotel that the client had taken back via a deed-in-lieu
- Representation of a major U.S. lender in sales of several of its REO properties, both raw land and developed properties
- Representation of the lead lender in a complex workout with respect to a mixed-use (retail and multifamily) development in Alabama, including managing litigation in two states and coordinating communications and decision-making with the lender group
