H.H. Sean Wee is a member of the FisherBroyles' Corporate Department and the Firm's Mergers and Acquisitions practice.

H.H. Sean Wee is a corporate attorney who represents investment banks and other financial advisors engaged to provide financial advice such as fairness opinions in connection with public mergers, friendly and hostile tender offers, and private asset and stock purchases across many industries. Sean also has unmatched experience with the delivery by financial advisors of solvency opinions in connection with leveraged transactions, stock repurchases, spin-offs and dividend distributions.

In his practice, Sean counsels and assists clients on all aspects of their work as financial advisors on transactions, including delivery of opinions to boards of directors and related corporate governance matters, review of proxy statements and registration statements for public M&A transactions, consideration of relevant valuation methodologies and potential issues regarding the use of financial projections and negotiation of financial advisor engagement letters and dealer-manager agreements.

Sean's extensive experience is evident from numerous top ten rankings for M&A investment banker representations.

Sean is well regarded in his practice area and has conducted trainings and written several articles. Sean has participated on the ABA Business Law Section Mergers and Acquisitions Committee Financial Advisor Task Force and has also been quoted in The Wall Street Journal.
